

A Timeline of your Life

From the time you were born, you have been part of a timeline. You may not think that the events and actions in your life are important but they are especially important to your friends and family.

With this project you will develop a timeline of your life. This timeline will include important personal events that happened during your life and other world and technological events that happened that same year.

Create this project using PowerPoint. You may also format it to your liking. Use whatever fonts or styles as long as they are readable.

Your project should be broken up by year. Each year should include:

- a personal event
- a world event (something that happened)
- a technology event

For example:

- 2007
  - Personal: Born at Beaumont Hospital in Dublin, Ireland (August)
  - Technology: The Original iPhone debuted (January)
  - World: Super Bowl XLI: Indianapolis Colts beat Chicago Bears 29-17 at the Dolphin Stadium (February)
- 2008
  - Personal: Turned 1 year old and had 3 teeth and had broken my arm (August)
  - Technology: Android responded to Apple's phone with their own phone; which was more powerful (October)
  - World: Beijing Olympics are held (August)

Each year needs to have some sort of image to accompany each piece of information. You can have as many images on the year as you would like, so long as they relate to the written information.

The last slide should be a reference slide. As you find your information online, make sure to copy the URL. This is not the link to the Google search, but to the URL where the information is available.

The timeline needs to run from the year you were born until present year.

To submit the project:

Attach to an email and submit electronically (email: melissaz@provo.edu)