

Job Skills

Employers look for people who have the skills and personal traits necessary for success on the job. They cannot afford to have employees who have not prepared themselves.

Was the little Alien prepared to do the job? Why or why not?

Is it too late for the Alien to develop the skills to do the job properly? Why or why not?

What traits or skills does the alien have now that would let you know he can do the job?

List three skills or personal traits the alien should have had before being hired to do the job:

If you were an employer, would you hire the little alien? Why or why not?
